This two-day scientific meeting will highlight exciting new advances in eye development, physiology, disease and therapies. It will also mark the outstanding contribution of Professor Alan Wright to the field of eye disease genetics over the last 25 years.

Sessions will cover the latest research in eye developmental genetics, quantitative traits and genetics, physiology and mechanisms of genetic eye disease as well as therapeutic approaches to genetic disease. Register before 03/08/2017 for discounted rates!